A floral firework: Magnolias, chrysanthemums, and countless blossoms take centre stage. This design goes all out – and that’s exactly what makes it so irresistibly appealing. It proves that floral wallpaper can be anything but tame.

Urban jungle reloaded: Foliage with show effect
- sometimes soft, sometimes bold, depending on the colour variant. And in black? The motif becomes a statement that stages the room with dramatic flair.

Weaving with a story: You can almost see the craftsmanship. Bamboo on the wall – textured, natural, with a hint of the exotic. It feels like handmade work, only in the comfort of a wallpaper version.

Deluxe squares: A second glance reveals more than just geometry. Fine textures shimmer through, subtly breaking the pattern. A design that plays with understatement – and yet has plenty to say.
